RECTANGULO

WEBSITE STRUCTURE & CREATIVE REFERENCES

SERVICES

Structure, content, behavior and interaction brief for the SERVICES page. The visual references are intended to communicate pacing, functionality and composition; the final visual identity must be adapted to Rectángulo.

SCOPE

Transition from HOME, client carousel, making-of / BTS interaction, scroll-driven capability sections, Stage 01 / facilities, core team and final contact CTA.

01 - OVERALL USER FLOW

SERVICES should feel like a continuation of the visual system established on HOME. The page changes rhythm through editorial blocks, audiovisual loops and scroll-controlled sections.

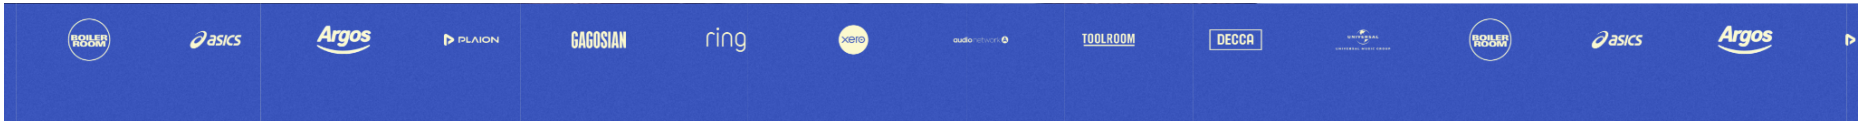

ENTRY	CLIENTS	BTS	SERVICES	STAGE 01	TEAM	CTA
Red / noise transition	Logo carousel	Hover / reveal	6 capability sections	Scroll reveal + specs	Red / noise + people	Contact / footer

TRANSITION FROM HOME

When the user selects SERVICES from the WORK / SERVICES / PROJECTS block on HOME, the transition should visually continue the same system. A red band or full-screen red expansion with a subtle grain/noise texture introduces the SERVICES page.

02 - CLIENTS / BRAND CAROUSEL

At the top of SERVICES, display a selection of brands Rectángulo has worked with. The carousel should move horizontally in a slow, continuous loop and also function as a credibility element.

BEHAVIOR

Automatic, continuous movement. Manual interaction may be supported without breaking the overall visual rhythm.

HOVER / BTS

Hovering over a brand activates related production material: making-of photography, production stills or short video loops. The content may appear as a dynamic collage around the central area.

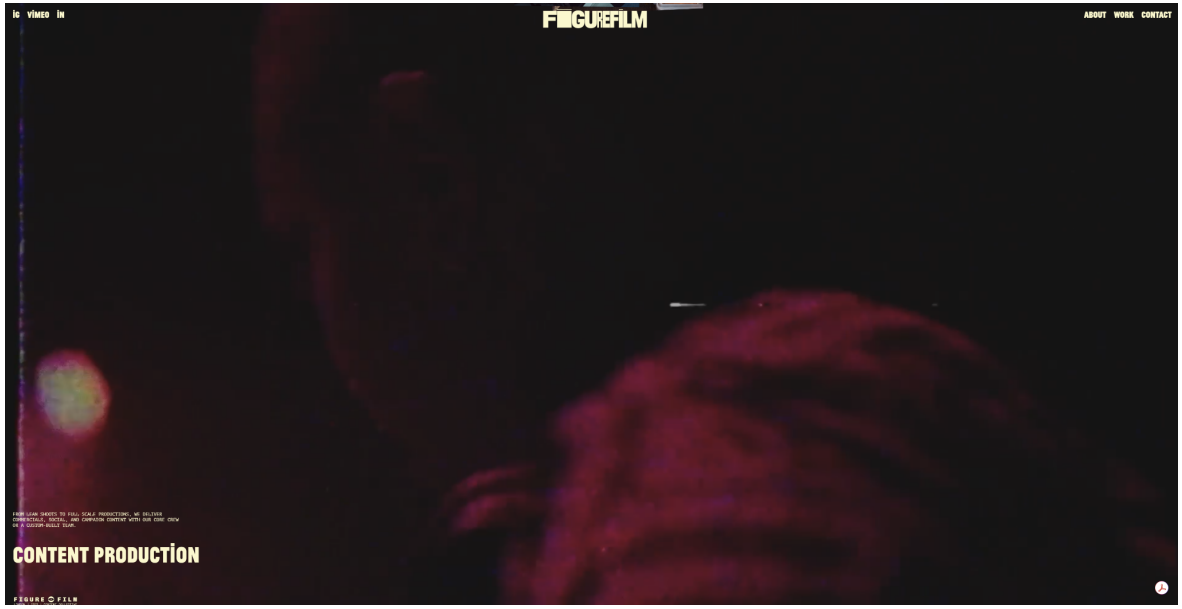

TOUCH DEVICES

On mobile and tablet, provide an equivalent interaction to hover, such as tap or selection.

03 - CAPABILITIES / SCROLL-DRIVEN SERVICES

The main section presents one service per scroll state. Each service combines an audiovisual loop, service title, short description and a compact list of capabilities. As the user continues scrolling, the visual and textual content transitions into the next service.

SERVICE SECTION PATTERN

Visual loop + title + description + capabilities. The loop should communicate the service by itself: pre-production shows planning and scouting; production shows crew and set work; post-production shows editing, color and sound; events show technical operation; photography shows shoots; rentals shows equipment.

Show a curated equipment selection and CTA: VIEW RENTAL EQUIPMENT →. The complete inventory should live in a dedicated rental page/catalog.

04 - OUR FACILITIES / STAGE 01

After the services section, the page changes rhythm to present Rectángulo's own production infrastructure. Stage 01 acts as an introduction to Offscreen Studio without replacing its future dedicated page.

SCROLL REVEAL

The section may begin as a simplified floor plan / line-art representation of the space. As the user scrolls, reveal dimensions, volume, technical features and finally real photography or video of the studio.

STAGE 01 - A SPACE READY FOR ANY PROJECT

192 m³ · 8 m × 6 m × 4 m
Infinity Cyclorama · Lighting Grid · RGB LED Lighting · Air Conditioning · Makeup Area · Dressing Rooms · Bathrooms · Equipment Rental · Independent Access · Vehicle Access · Client Lounge

EXPLORE OFFSCREEN STUDIO →

05 - OUR TEAM

After Stage 01, return to the red background with grain/noise texture. This block introduces Rectángulo's core team and provides a human closing section before the final CTA.

INTERACTION

Names can be placed in a vertical column. Hover or click changes the portrait and reveals role, short bio and links. This avoids displaying three full biographies simultaneously and keeps the layout editorial and interactive.

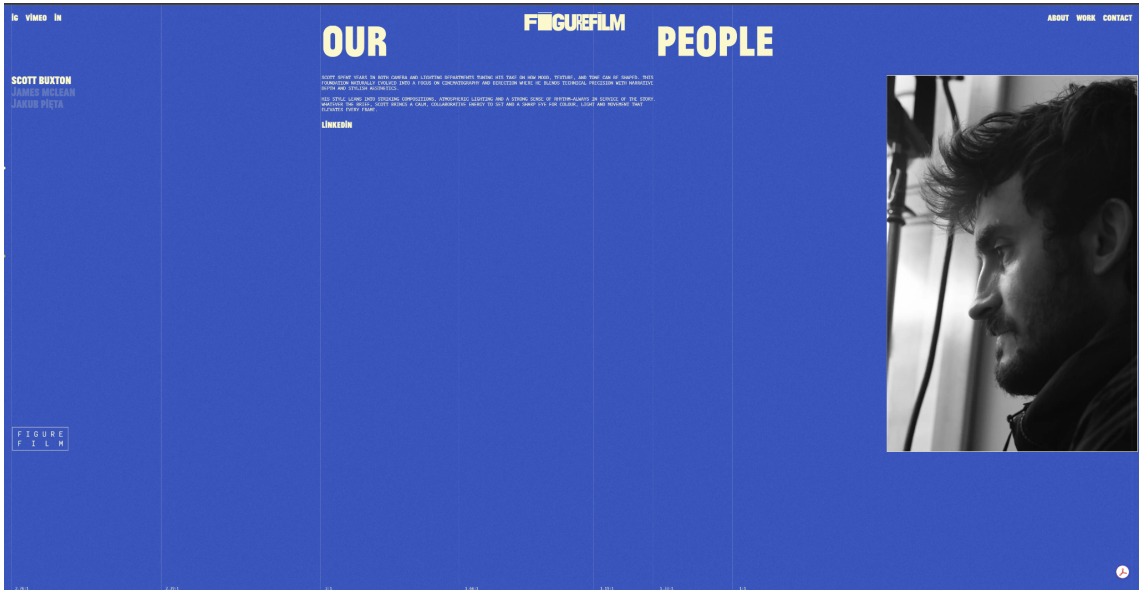

PEOPLE

JOSH SÁNDRE
Director / Creative

ROMÁN HERNÁNDEZ
Producer / final title to be defined

KARLA SUÁREZ
Role to be defined

Final biographies and titles will be added once the institutional copy is approved.

06 - CTA / FOOTER

Maintain consistency with HOME. The page closes with a direct invitation to start a project, followed by contact, social and legal information.

LET'S WORK TOGETHER

Short invitation to discuss a production, service or technical requirement.
